

Florida Statute 932.7055(5)(a): If the seizing agency is a county or municipal agency, the remaining proceeds shall be deposited in a special law enforcement trust fund established by the board of county commissioners or the governing body of the municipality. The proceeds and interest may not be used to meet normal operating expenses of the law enforcement agency.

SUMMARY ANALYSIS

CS/CS/HB 889 passed the House on March 8, 2016, as CS/CS/SB 1044. The bill includes portions of CS/SB 220 and HB 883.

Sections 932.701-932.706, F.S., comprise the Florida Contraband Forfeiture Act (hereafter the "Act"), which provides for the seizure and civil forfeiture of property used in violation of the Act. The forfeiture procedure advances primarily by a two-step process: the seizure or other initial restraint on the property is applied; and the forfeiture itself occurs once it is determined in court that the property can be legally forfeited.

The bill amends the requirements that apply to seizure, the review of seizures, and forfeiture procedures in a number of ways:

- Property seizure is unauthorized until the owner of the property is arrested for a criminal offense that forms the basis for determining that the property is a contraband article, or one of the enumerated arrest exceptions applies
- The seizing agency must petition the court for a finding that the seizure was lawful
- When an agency files a petition for forfeiture, the agency must pay a minimum $1,000 filing fee and a $1,500 bond to the clerk of court
- A forfeiture petition may only be granted upon proof beyond a reasonable doubt that the property was being used in violation of the Act
- Specified parties in seizing agencies must review forfeiture settlements, perform annual seizure reviews, and review seizures for legal sufficiency
- Agencies must address deficiencies raised by a review and create written policies promoting the release of property
- Law enforcement officer employment and compensation may not depend on seizure quotas
- Specified law enforcement officers must receive training on seizure and forfeiture
- The percentage of proceeds that must be donated by the seizing agency or used for specified causes is increased
- Any law enforcement agency that does not comply with the reporting requirements is subject to a civil fine up to $5,000

The bill may have an impact on state and local government revenues and expenditures. (Please see "Fiscal Analysis & Economic Impact Statement.")

The bill was approved by the Governor on April 1, 2016, ch. 2016-179, L.O.F., and will become effective July 1, 2016.

I. SUBSTANTIVE INFORMATION

A. EFFECT OF CHANGES:

The Florida Contraband Forfeiture Act

Sections 932.701-932.706, F.S., comprise the Florida Contraband Forfeiture Act (hereafter the "Act"), which provides for the seizure and civil forfeiture of property related to criminal and non-criminal violations of law. Contraband and other property may be seized when utilized during or for the purpose of violating the Act. Property constituting a "contraband article" includes:

- a controlled substance as defined in ch. 893, F.S., or a substance, device, paraphernalia, or currency or other means of exchange that was used, attempted, or intended to be used in violation of ch. 893, F.S.;¹
- gambling paraphernalia, lottery tickets, money, currency, or other means of exchange which was used, attempted, or intended to be used in violation of Florida gambling laws;
- equipment, liquid or solid, which was used, attempted, or intended to be used, in violation of Florida beverage or tobacco laws;
- motor fuel upon which the motor fuel tax has not been paid;
- personal property that was used or attempted to be used as an instrumentality in, or to aid or abet the commission of, any felony, or which is acquired by proceeds obtained from a violation of the Act;
- real property that was used or attempted to be used as an instrumentality in, or to aid or abet the commission of, any felony, or which is acquired by proceeds from a violation of the Act;
- any personal property in the possession of or belonging to any person who takes aquaculture products in violation of s. 812.014(2)(c), F.S.;
- a motor vehicle offered for sale in violation of s. 320.28, F.S.;
- a motor vehicle used in the course of committing a violation of s. 322.34(9)(a), F.S.;
- photographs, films, or other recorded images, recorded in violation of s. 810.145, F.S., and possessed for amusement, entertainment, sexual arousal, gratification, or profit, or for the purpose of degrading or abusing another person;
- real property which is acquired by the proceeds of Medicaid fraud under ss. 409.920, F.S., or 409.9201, F.S.;
- personal property in the possession of, or belonging to, any person which is acquired by the proceeds of Medicaid fraud under ss. 409.920, F.S., or 409.9201, F.S.; and
- personal property that is used or attempted to be used as an instrumentality in the commission of, or in aiding and abetting in the commission of, a person's third or subsequent violation of s. 509.144, F.S.²

Under the Act, any contraband article, vessel, motor vehicle, aircraft, other personal property, or real property used in violation of the Act or in, upon, or by the means of which a violation of the Act has or is taking place, may be seized.³ The following criminal and noncriminal acts are specifically prohibited under the Act:

- To transport, carry, or convey any contraband article in, upon, or by means of any vessel, motor vehicle, or aircraft
- To conceal or possess any contraband article
- To use any vessel, motor vehicle, aircraft, other personal property, or real property to facilitate the transportation, carriage, conveyance, concealment, receipt, possession, purchase, sale, barter, exchange, or giving away of any contraband article

¹ The totality of the facts presented by the State must clearly establish probable cause to believe that a nexus exists between the article seized and the narcotics activity. s. 932.701(2)(a)1., F.S.

² s. 932.701(2)(a), F.S.

³ s. 932.703(1), F.S.

- To conceal, or possess, or use any contraband article as an instrumentality in the commission of or in aiding or abetting in the commission of any felony or violation of the Florida Contraband Forfeiture Act
- To acquire real or personal property by the use of proceeds obtained in violation of the Florida Contraband Forfeiture Act⁴

The forfeiture procedure advances primarily by a two-step process: the seizure or other initial restraint on the property is applied; and the forfeiture itself occurs once it is determined in court that the property can be legally forfeited.⁵

Seizure

As mentioned above, the property specified in the Act may be seized and forfeited when the property has been used in violation of the Act, or in, upon, or by means of which a violation of the Act has or is taking place.⁶ Personal property may be seized when the violation occurs or after the violation, if the person entitled to be notified⁷ is notified at the time of the seizure or by certified mail.⁸ Real property can only be seized by the process of *lis pendens*⁹ after a violation of the Act has occurred, and prior to when the person entitled to notice has been given the opportunity to attend a pre-seizure adversarial hearing¹⁰ to determine the validity of the seizure.¹¹ As soon as a seizure takes place, all rights to, interest in, and title to contraband articles used in violation of the Act immediately vest¹² in the law enforcement agency that performed the seizure.¹³

Adversarial preliminary hearings are conducted before or after a seizure to determine whether there is probable cause to believe that the property was used, is being used, was attempted to be used, or was intended to be used in violation of the Act.¹⁴ If the court determines that probable cause is established, the court shall authorize the seizure or continued seizure of the subject contraband.¹⁵

Forfeiture Proceedings

The seizing agency must promptly proceed¹⁶ against the property by filing a complaint¹⁷ in the circuit court in the jurisdiction where the seizure or the offense occurred.¹⁸ Forfeiture proceedings must be decided by a jury trial unless the claimant waives that right.¹⁹ Unlike the probable cause standard used in adversarial preliminary hearings, property may not be forfeited unless the seizing agency proves by a preponderance of the evidence²⁰ that the owner either knew or should have known that the property was being used or was likely to be used for criminal activity.²¹ Upon clear and convincing evidence that the contraband article was being used in violation of the Act, the court shall order the seized property forfeited to the seizing agency.²² Once this occurs, the right, title, and interest in and to such property shall be perfected in the seizing agency, subject only to the rights of bona fide lienholders.²³

Use and Disposition of Forfeited Assets

Once a seizing agency has been awarded a final judgment granting forfeiture of property, the agency may do any of the following:

- Retain the property for agency use
- Sell the property at public auction or by sealed bid to the highest bidder, except for real property, which must be sold in a commercially reasonable manner
- Salvage, trade, or transfer the property to any public or nonprofit organization²⁴

When the forfeited property has a lien attached to it that is preserved by the court,²⁵ the agency must either sell the property and apply the proceeds toward satisfying the lien, or satisfy the lien before disposing of the property in one of the ways described above.²⁶

Should the seizing agency choose to sell forfeited property, the proceeds may not be used to meet normal operating expenses of the agency.²⁷ Rather, the proceeds must be distributed with the following priority:

- Satisfaction of any liens preserved by the court during forfeiture proceedings
- Payment of the cost incurred to the seizing agency for storage, maintenance, security, and forfeiture of the property
- Payment of the court costs incurred from the forfeiture proceeding
- For the 2015-16 fiscal year only, the funds in a special law enforcement trust fund established by a municipality may be used to reimburse the general fund of the municipality for advances from the general fund to the special law enforcement trust fund prior to October 1, 2001²⁸

When the seizing agency is a county or municipal agency, the remaining proceeds from a sale of forfeited goods shall be deposited into a special law enforcement trust fund that may be used only for specific expenses.²⁹ The funds may be expended in accordance with the following requirements:

- The funds may only be used for school resource officer, crime prevention, safe neighborhood programs, drug abuse education, drug prevention programs, or other approved law enforcement purposes³⁰
- The funds may not be used to meet normal operating needs of the law enforcement agency³¹
- Any local law enforcement agency that acquires at least $15,000 through the Act within one fiscal year must donate at least 15 percent of the proceeds for the support of any drug treatment, drug abuse education, drug prevention, crime prevention, safe neighborhood, or school resource officer programs³²

Effect of the Bill

The bill restricts the methods by which a seizing agency may seize and forfeit property. A property item may be seized if it was used in violation of the Act and the enumerated pre-conditions are satisfied. The pre-conditions require that:

- the owner of the property is arrested for a criminal offense that forms the basis for determining that the property is a contraband article; or
- an arrest exception applies, as follows:
 - The owner of the property cannot be identified after a diligent search, or the person in possession of the property denies ownership and the owner of the property cannot be identified by means available to the employee or agent of the seizing agency at the time of the seizure
 - The owner of the property is a fugitive from justice or deceased
 - An individual who does not own the property is arrested for the criminal violation that forms the basis for determining that the property is a contraband article, and the owner of the property had actual knowledge of the criminal activity
 - The owner of the property agrees to be a confidential informant as defined in s. 914.28, F.S.
 - The property is a monetary instrument³³

If a qualifying arrest occurs, or an arrest exception applies, the property may be seized if it has been used in any violation of the Act, regardless of whether the violation of the Act is connected to the criminal violation.

Within 10 business days after the seizure, the agency must apply to the court for a finding that a qualifying arrest occurred or an arrest exception applies, and that probable cause exists for the property seizure under the Act. If the court finds that the seizure was lawful, the agency can hold the property pending the completion of proceedings under the Act. If the court finds that the seizure was unlawful, the seizure and any restraint on the property must be released within five days after the court finding. If the owner of the property or another aggrieved party files a petition for an adversarial preliminary hearing and the court finds that probable cause does not exist, the seizing agency is liable for reasonable attorney fees and costs, up to $2,000. The bill authorizes the court to seal any portion of the petition and any record of a proceeding under the Act which is exempt or confidential and exempt from public disclosure, or if otherwise permitted under the Florida Rules of Judicial Administration.

After a lawful seizure occurs, the seizing agency must promptly file a petition to forfeit the property. The seizing agency must pay a filing fee of $1,000 and a bond of $1,500 to the clerk of court at the time the petition is filed. Unless otherwise expressly agreed to in writing by the parties, the bond shall be payable to the claimant if the claimant prevails in the forfeiture proceeding and any appeal. If 90 or more days have elapsed since the seizure of the property and the owner of the property cannot be located, the property may be deemed contraband and subject to forfeiture. The court shall order the forfeiture of the property when the seizing agency proves beyond a reasonable doubt that the seized property was being used in violation of the Act.

The bill amends the reporting and review requirements that apply to property seizure and forfeiture, as follows:

- The head of the seizing agency or a subordinate must review all forfeiture settlements
- Seizing agencies must review the seizures annually, at a minimum

³³ The term "monetary instrument" means coin or currency of the United States or any other country; a traveler's check; a personal check; a bank check; a cashier's check; a money order; a bank draft of any country; an investment security or negotiable instrument in bearer form or in other form such that title passes upon delivery; a prepaid or stored value card or other device that is the equivalent of money and can be used to obtain cash, property, or services; or gold, silver, or platinum bullion or coins.

- If a review reveals deficiencies, the seizing agency must take prompt action to comply with the Act
- The employment, salary, promotion, or other compensation of a law enforcement officer may not depend on seizure quotas
- A supervisor must promptly review the probable cause supporting a seizure. The legal counsel for the seizing agency must be notified of all seizures as soon as possible and must review the seizure for legal sufficiency
- Seizing agencies shall adopt and implement written policies and procedures promoting the prompt release of seized property in specified circumstances and review each claim of interest in seized property
- The settlement of any forfeiture action must be consistent with the Act and the seizing agency's policy
- Law enforcement officers that perform property seizures must receive training and continuing education as required by the Act, and each seizing agency must retain records of compliance

The bill increases the percentage of proceeds that must be donated from 15 percent to 25 percent for local law enforcement agencies that acquire at least $15,000 through the Act within one fiscal year. The bill requires that 70 percent of the proceeds from a vehicle that was seized for being used in a DUI pursuant to s. 322.34, F.S., must be first applied to payment of court costs, fines, and fees remaining due, and any remaining balance of proceeds shall be deposited in the General Revenue Fund.

The bill requires law enforcement agencies to submit reports to the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) as follows:

- All law enforcement agencies must submit annual reports to FDLE regarding whether the agency has seized or forfeited property under the Act
- All law enforcement agencies that received or expended forfeited property or proceeds of forfeited property must submit an annual report by October 10 documenting the receipts and expenditures
- The report must specify the type, approximate value, court case number, type of offense, disposition of property received, and amount of any proceeds received or expended

Any law enforcement agency that does not comply with the reporting requirements is subject to a civil fine up to $5,000. The fine will not apply to agencies that substantially comply with the requirements within 60 days of receipt of the notice of noncompliance from FDLE.

The bill requires FDLE to submit an annual report to the Office of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability (OPPAGA) compiling the data in the annual reports submitted by the law enforcement agencies.

The bill corrects statutory references and reenacts a section of statute to reflect the changes made by the bill.

II. FISCAL ANALYSIS & ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

A. FISCAL IMPACT ON STATE GOVERNMENT:

1. Revenues:

The state could receive revenue from civil fines assessed upon law enforcement agencies, payable to the General Revenue Fund, if law enforcement agencies fail to comply with new forfeiture reporting requirements. The number of law enforcement agencies which may fail to comply cannot be accurately determined.

2. Expenditures:

This bill increases reporting requirements for FDLE and other state law enforcement agencies. According to FDLE, one FTE will be needed for an additional Government Analyst position, at the expense of $64,118 in the first year, and $60,119 annually afterward.³⁴

B. FISCAL IMPACT ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTS:

1. Revenues:

A law enforcement agency could lose funds that would be payable to the General Revenue Fund as civil fines, if the law enforcement agency fails to comply with the new forfeiture reporting requirements.

The bill limits the circumstances in which a seizing agency may gain title to property through the Act. In Fiscal Year 2013-14, there were 4,210 seizures reported under the Act throughout the state.³⁵ Approximately 36 percent of the occurrences resulted in the owner's forfeiture of all seized assets, and 34 percent resulted in the partial forfeiture of assets, totaling $18,871,997.³⁶ This bill could have a significant impact on certain law enforcement agencies that generate a large amount of revenue annually from forfeitures. The precise impact of the bill cannot be accurately determined at this time.

2. Expenditures:

Law enforcement agencies that fail to comply with the forfeiture reporting requirements in the bill will be subject to a civil fine of up to $5,000 payable to the state General Revenue Fund. The number of law enforcement agencies that may fail to comply cannot be accurately determined.

This bill increases reporting requirements for local law enforcement agencies. To the extent that the increased reporting requirements expend additional resources, the bill may have a minimal fiscal impact on local government expenditures.

C. DIRECT ECONOMIC IMPACT ON PRIVATE SECTOR:

None.

D. FISCAL COMMENTS:

None.

A Holistic Crime Prevention and Reduction Initiative.

Decreasing Violent Crime and Spreading the Love Initiative.

The AAERTT and selected members of the Jacksonville Leadership, Stakeholders, and Metro Jacksonville residents have created a proven methodology to reduce violence, empower citizens, and create a safe environment to improve Quality of Life Experience for ALL. In Jacksonville, FL "Every Life Matters".

Caution: Any methods utilized in communities which suffer from disparities caused by Health Zone 1 pathologies, must always be applied safely, with a moral compass and empathy, compassion, and the best interests of the residents are primary.

"An ounce of prevention is a worth a pound of cure".

Background

Bill Bratton, former Commissioner of the NYPD in the mid-1990s, led a successful initiative which cut the NYPD murder rate in half during his tenure. His technique became a national model adopted in cities across the country. In an effort to fight violent crime, the AAERTT research and findings agree with the management philosophy based on the Bill Bratton approach.

The technique is supported by a CompStat system, an organizational management tool for police departments, which maps and analyzes crime statistics. In addition, the system holds commanders accountable for providing real-time district performance data.

Further Data

The "broken windows" theory instructs officers to manage minor offenses, i.e.: curfew violations, loud music, and other misdemeanor offenses without arrest. This restores the bridge to the community and officers assigned to the community. Levels of bureaucracy were minimized thus eliminating middle managers and emphasizing the job of the beat cop.

Goal of the Initiative

- Decrease violent crime activity by 30 – 40 percent each year over a three-year timeline
- Civilian Citations (needs a social and civic task-force in 2015)
- Stricter gun laws
- Underserved communities Inclusion in the national economy stabilization.
- Community Leaders and JSO educational awareness of urban drug markets would also be helpful.

In the meantime, here are ten measures with the potential to help decrease the violence as leaders and the AAERTT ponder more aggressive crime-fighting strategies and tactics.

1. Maintain a continued Ceasefire partnership between the JSO, Violence Crime Prevention Organizations, Grassroots Community Organizations and an innovative violence prevention organization that applies public health principles in its approach to reducing the number of shootings and killings in communities with the highest rates of murder and poverty.

The two main elements of Ceasefire partnership are;

(1) The direct attack on illicit firearms traffickers and

(2) A set of intervention actions that can give gang members and citizens a strong deterrent to gun violence.

Note: City Leaders, JSO, and Jacksonville Community can place strong and targeted enforcement pressure or harsh sanctions on citizens to discourage gun carrying. This is known as “lever pulling.” They can also spread the word among citizens about increased enforcement or all anticrime measures, known as “retailing.”

2. Ensure that Jacksonville Ceasefire Funds and manpower (JSO and Justice Department)

(A) Are dedicated to gun violence prevention,

(B) Do not have to respond to 911 calls

(C) Are specifically selected and trained in respectful citizen interaction, conflict resolution, and gun seizures.

(D) Perform general and targeted pedestrian and vehicle traffic stops to identify suspicious activity

3. Build Strategic Approaches to Community Safety Initiative (SACSI) which can reduce violent crime in targeted communities by as much as 50 percent.

Key elements of the SACSI strategy are:

- Leadership by local U.S. Attorneys’ Offices within a collaborative, multi-agency partnership.
- Integration of researchers into planning and execution of intervention strategies.
- Design and implementation of interventions that incorporate tactics proved to reduce illegal gun carrying and use.

4. Project Safe Neighborhoods (PSN) around five basic components.

- Private / Public Partnerships to provide a collaborative and comprehensive approach: · Strategic planning to address enforcement, prosecution, deterrence, and prevention.
- Special Training:
- Community Outreach:
- Improve Accountability through various reporting mechanisms.

5. Create federal, state, and local collaborations to offer advantages for local crime fighters facing high rates of gun violence. This includes agencies working across departmental lines in probation, parole, the Department of Children and Family (DCF) and Support Services, the Federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms (ATF), Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) and the Duval County District Attorney’s Office.

6. Create conducive police-researcher partnerships that are vital for action research and intervention which works best when police set aside their reservations or “turf issues” and researchers are flexible and sensitive to law enforcement concerns and priorities. For example, social service workers could be dispatched to deal with the most at-risk youths on the streets to connect them with services and keep them out of trouble.

7. Use Problem-solving Policing crime analysis to locate concentrations of crime called "hot-analysis," to help police identify high-crime areas, types of crime being committed, and other information that will help craft the most effective response.

8. Focus on Deterrence-Targeting High-Risk Areas and Offenders in hot-spots of violent crime to convince Citizens that just carrying an illegal gun or using it will result in a severe federal sentence without parole. Remain focused on open-air drug markets which can create attractive targets for armed robbers; draw local youth into the drug trade as well as nonresident drive-through buyers; spur the creation of loose drug "crews" whose feuds can increase gun violence; and lead to the acquisition and use of firearms by dealers, buyers and some residents.

9. Increase involvement and transparent communication from community leaders and organizations like the African American Economic Recovery Think Tank, NAACP, National Urban League, and many local grassroots organizations about personal responsibility and necessary changes needed in the physical and social environment while addressing the causes of violence. Implement mentoring programs that pair a young person with an adult who can serve as a positive role model to guide the young person's behavior.

10. Increase family education through Duval County Public School, FSCJ, UNF, JU, UF and other social service agencies to prevent violence before it starts. Parents can receive training in child development and learn Conflict Resolution skills for talking with their kids, adults, and community and solving problems in nonviolent ways. Social-development strategies can teach children and adolescents to handle tough socio-economic situations and to resolve problems without using violence.

Law Enforcement Trust Fund Questions:

1. The statute carves out 25% of proceeds- does this refer to net proceeds after payment of prioritized expenses? I would guess this is the case.

Answer: Net proceeds. See staff analysis above.

2. Over what period or pot of funds is that allocation made? For example, the schedule below suggests two reimbursements of costs and two 25% reserves out of the same balance, but there will be additions to the fund as well. Is it a fiscal year calculation, from each forfeiture, or what? It cannot be a rolling calculation based on the remaining balance if prior allocation have been made to meet the requirement.

Answer: State change 2016-179 has a new reporting requirement for the state fiscal year 7/1-6/30 with the report due 10/10 annually.

3. The statute does give the local law enforcement agency the discretion to decide which qualifying program or programs will receive the designated funds (the 25%) but also requires appropriation by the Council and in several instances speaks to joint approval. What is the authority of Council to decline to appropriate or amend a request?

Answer: Council has the authority to decline to approve but cannot insert Council discretion for the JSO discretion. We can discuss further.

4. Current code language for the trust fund has a specific allocation for security cameras. Could the code be further amended to provide an additional specific allocation or use that complies with the general use categories of the statute?

Answer: Need to discuss further.
