Subject: NextEra v. JEA; Final Judgment

Please find attached the Final Judgment entered by the Court. The Court found for JEA on all claims. This effectively ends the case as NextEra waived its appellate rights. The only thing that remains is NextEra's filing of a redacted transcript of the trial (See FJ, ¶ 7). So, unless someone challenges NextEra's redactions, the case is over.

Please note that the FJ vacates the Interim Confidentiality Order. We can now publish NextEra's gross proceeds and net proceeds bid numbers. However, we CANNOT publish the "other" redacted information at this time. I asked NextEra (and Duke Energy) to review the "other" redacted information and to un-redact it. I am still waiting on a response to this request.
