

An aerial photograph showing a large, irregularly shaped property outlined in a bright blue line. The property is mostly covered in dense green vegetation and trees. In the lower-left portion of the property, there is a circular, light-colored area that appears to be a pond or a cleared field. To the left of the property, there is a body of water. To the right, there is a residential area with houses and trees. At the bottom of the image, there is a parking lot with several cars, a road, and a yellow arrow pointing north.
